

Established in 2007, Capital Vox is based in Ottawa, Canada. It is an auditioned community jazz choir backed by a three-piece rhythm section. The members of Capital Vox are all excellent vocalists in their own right, several of whom perform in the city.

Capital Vox was formed to explore the works of classic jazz composers, as well as standards old and new, in a large group vocal setting. It also seeks to recast traditional music in a new, jazzy light; as well as to present music by Canadian jazz composers.

The choir membership seeks continual growth in vocal, improvisational, and musicianship skills; culminating in quality music-making and concert performances.

The choir's music director, Elise Letourneau, creates custom arrangements for the choir to sing.
